

Energy Information Services

The power to manage your energy use

Energy Information Services (EIS) is a powerful online energy-management tool that provides customers with relevant and reliable energy-use data to help them make informed decisions and save money.

The key to managing your energy costs is knowing how you use energy.

Simple to use

EIS gives you a quick-read summary of all the information you need to manage your energy budget, reduce energy use, eliminate surprises and forecast future demand.

USER-FRIENDLY SOFTWARE MAKES IT SIMPLE

Get an easy-to-read graphic representation of your energy use that will help you understand your current energy consumption patterns.

Run “what if” scenario planning to model usage pattern changes and energy reduction impacts.

Identify opportunities to reduce your operational costs.

Track operational change decisions and estimate your cost savings.

Try it for free

Understanding how you use energy is the first step toward managing it, so we cover 100% of the cost for the first year. You can continue the service for just $20 per AMI meter per month.

Put this powerful tool to use for your business.
